In the 21st century, corporate progress is not about leveraging material and human resources alone. The true challenge is to utilize and consolidate the best of indirect resources, i.e. domestic / international market potential, cutting edge technological advancements and business policies. The key is to accelerate ideation and implementation of strategic corporate policies. Undoubtedly, a specialized approach towards the same is imperative and indispensable, not optional.

AIMS integrates syllabi, pedagogy and fine tuned technology with the latest developments on international business horizon, to provide modern enterprises thoroughly trained, self learning, highly motivated and consistently efficient leaders in the exacting domains of Marketing, Finance, Human Resource, Operations, Information Technology and International Business.

To achieve this objective, our faculty adopts a hands-on approach in academics with mandatory industry exposure so that these future managers are aware of the latest thought-schools in their respective specializations. Coupled with this, the regular spate of extra curricular events fosters not just creative expression, but also kindles the initiative and drive to channel their energies and leverage their aptitude for ideation, organization and execution.

At AIMS, we combine faculty expertise with 21st century infrastructure and provide students with infrastructure that creates a versatile learning environment. We believe that only a tech-savvy and well-informed leader can render the highest standard of performance of key responsibilities in reputed multinationals in many countries, a fact we are proud of, a legacy we aim to perpetuate.

So here we are back with a batch of professional managers who will immerse themselves seamlessly in your work culture with incomparable commitment to perform. Bright, young men and women poised to drive the growth engine of your corporation. Self activated leaders who will deliver maximum impact to your corporation.
